

NEW SEASON

2020 – 2021

FEELS GOOD MAN

By Arthur Jones and Giorgio Angelini

The surprising impact and origin story behind one of the internet's most toxic memes—Pepe the Frog. [90min]

REPRESENT

By Hillary C. Bachelder

Leading up to the 2018 midterm elections, three midwestern women tackle politics on their own terms. [90min]

JONATHAN SCOTT'S POWER TRIP

By Jonathan Scott

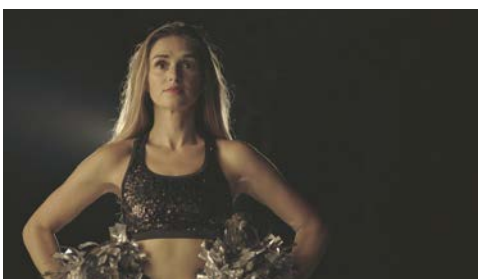

HGTV home makeover guru Jonathan Scott shines a light on the obstacles and opportunities for America's solar industry. [90min]

BELLY OF THE BEAST

By Erika Cohn

Current and formerly incarcerated women challenge the criminal justice system and reveal human and reproductive rights violations presently occurring within women's prisons. [90min]

A WOMAN'S WORK: THE NFL'S CHEERLEADER PROBLEM

By Yu Gu

Three cheerleaders take on the NFL, battling the massive, male-dominated sports league to demand equity, fair labor practices—and a raise. [60min]

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF AMERICA

By Jared Leto

July 4th, 2017: 92 film crews, 24-hours, 1 nation. Director Jared Leto captures an unflinching snapshot of a country on the verge of upheaval. [90min]

9T05: THE STORY OF A MOVEMENT

By Julia Reichert and Steven Bognar

Income inequality, sexual harassment, and gender bias—the true story behind the pop culture phenomenon starring Jane Fonda, Dolly Parton, and Lilly Tomlin. [90min]

WOMEN IN BLUE

By Deirdre Fishel

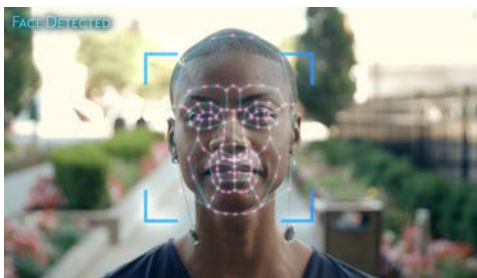

In the years leading up to the murder of George Floyd, three female Minneapolis police officers fought for gender equity and culture change in their troubled police department. [90min]

MR. SOUL!

By Melissa Haizlip

Before Oprah, before Arsenio, PBS produced one of the most culturally significant and successful television shows in U.S. history. Meet Ellis Haizlip—“Mr. SOUL!”. [90min]

CODED BIAS

By Shalini Kantayya

Studying racial bias in facial recognition algorithms, MIT Media Lab researcher Joy Buolamwini makes a startling discovery, and fallout ensues. [90min]

THE PEOPLE VS. AGENT ORANGE

By Alan Adelson and Kate Taverna

Two women fight to hold a mammoth industry accountable for the 40-year devastation caused by the toxic chemical Agent Orange. [90min]

DOWN A DARK STAIRWELL

By Ursula Liang

After a Chinese American cop shoots and kills a Black man in a Brooklyn housing project, two communities of color discover how racial division serves white supremacy. [90min]

TWO GODS

By Zeshawn Ali and Aman Ali

In a New Jersey casket shop, a pair of Muslim morticians use the rituals of death to teach two troubled teenagers how to live better lives. [60min]

THE DONUT KING

By Alice Gu

A refugee escapes Cambodia in the 1970s and builds an unlikely multi-million dollar empire baking America's favorite pastry. [90min]

PHILLY DA

By Ted Pavsson and Yoni Brook

Philadelphia has one of the highest incarceration rates in the US, and the District Attorney is leading an experiment that may reshape American prosecution. [Multi-part Docuseries]

LEARN MORE:

@INDEPENDENTLENS
PBS.COM/INDEPENDENTLENS

For internal station use only. All information and images regarding Philly DA are under embargo until further notice.

SUPPORT PROVIDED BY:
ITVS, CPB, PBS, the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, Wyncote Foundation, and The National Endowment for the Arts.